

Cultural Capital

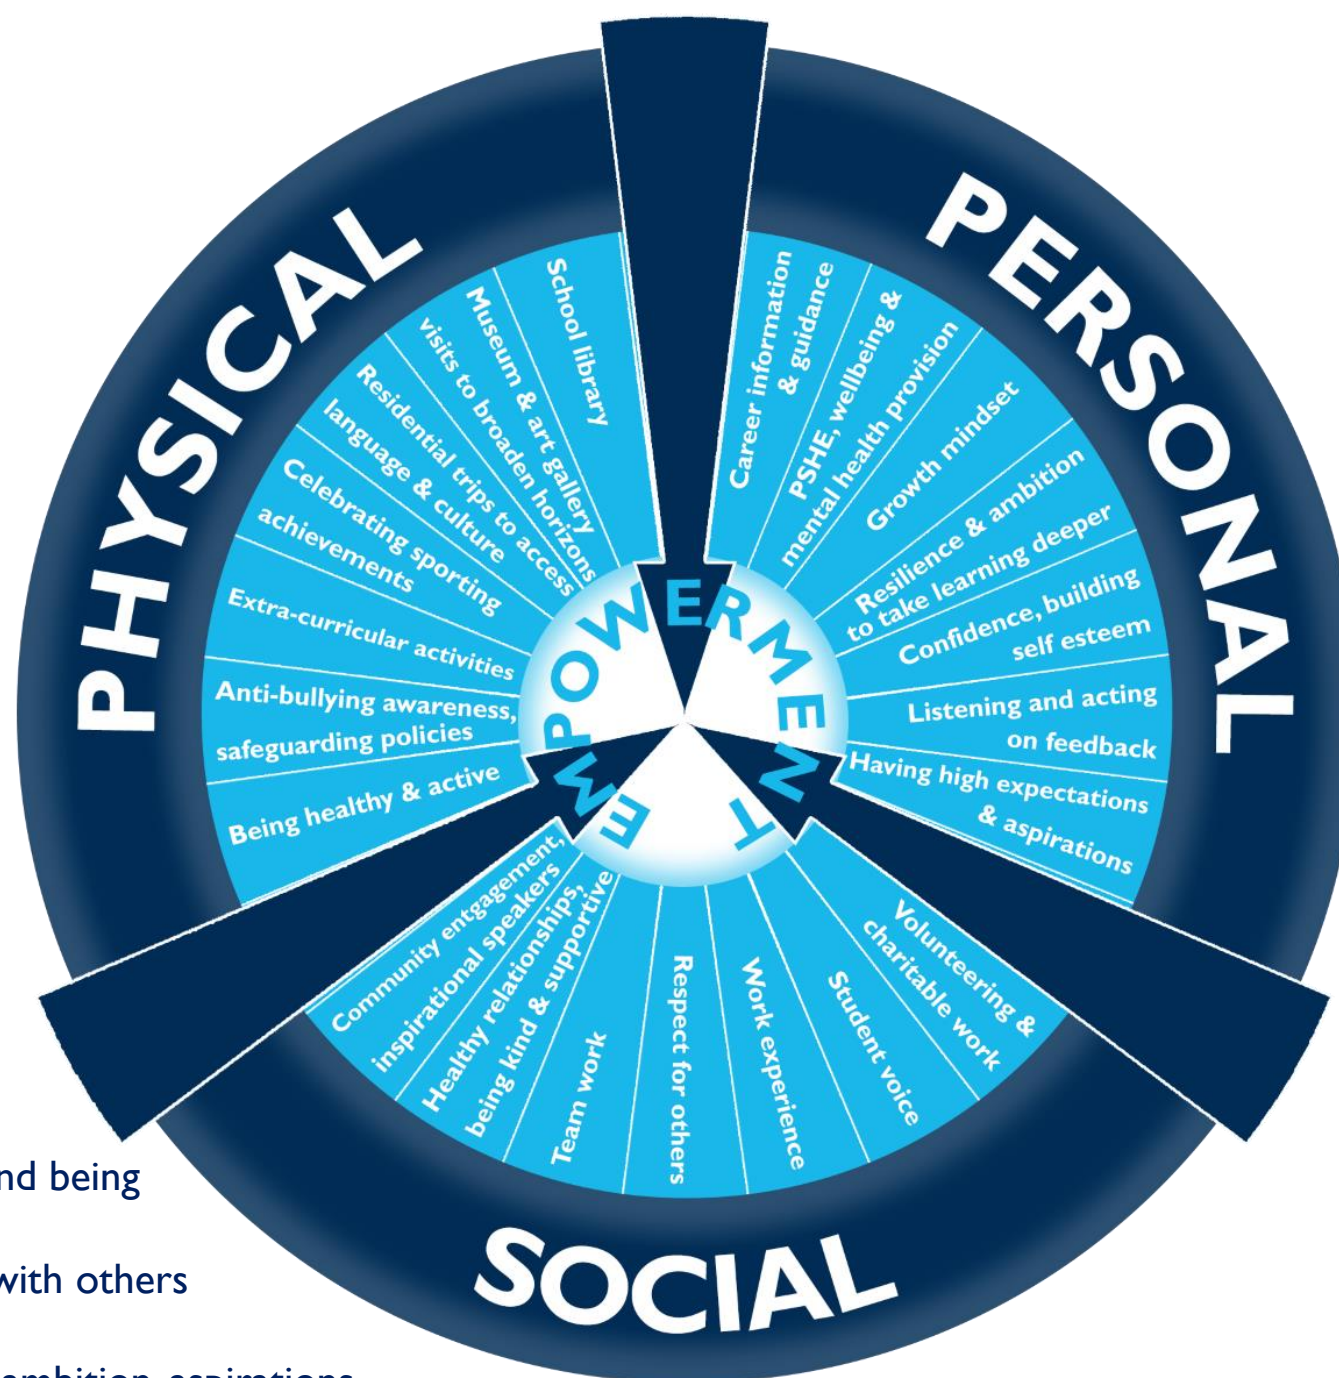

The term cultural capital has been added to Ofsted's new Education Inspection Framework.

“Cultural capital is the essential knowledge that children need to prepare them for their future success.” EIF

Capital can be defined as any assets that can improve your life chances.

Cultural Capital – having the skills, knowledge, norms and values which can be used to get ahead in education and life more generally.

Social Capital – possession of social contacts that can ‘open doors’.

Physical – doing and being

Social – working with others

Personal – having ambition, aspirations
